fFrom Campbell's Rough Recollections], IN BED WITH A SERPENT.

I might have slept some four or five hours, and a dreamless and satisfying sleep it was; but certain it is-det scinlists say what they will, and skeptics throw double by handfuls on the assertions of metaphysicians-that, before I awake and in my dreamless slumber, I had a visible perception of peril, a consciousness of the hovering presence of death! How to describe my feelings I know not; but as we have all rend and heard that if the eyes of a watcher are steadily fixed on the countenance of a sleeper for a certain length of time the slumberer will be sure to start up, wakened by the mysterious magnetism of a recondite principle of clairvoyance, so it was that, with shut eyes and droweed senses, an inward ability was conferred upon me to detect the living presence of danger near me, to see, though sleep-blind, the formless shape of a mysterious horror crouching beside me; and, as if the peril that was my night mate was of a nature to be quickened into fatal activity by any motion on my part, I felt in my very stupor the critical accessity of lying quite still, so that, when I at last awoke and felt that as I lay with my face toward the roof, there was a thick heavy, cold creeping thing on my chest, I stirred not, nor uttered a word of pasic. Danger and fear may occasionally dull the senses and paralyse the faculties, but they more frequently sharpen both; and ere I could twice wink my eyes, I was broad awake and aware that coiling and coiling itself up into a circle of twists, an enormous serpent was on my brenst. When I tell you that the whole of my chest, and even the pit of my stomach, were covered with the cold, scaly proportions of the reptile, you will own that it must have been one of considerable size. What my thoughts were, so made up of abhorence, dread, and the expectation, nay, assurance of speedy death that must follow any movement on my part, I can never hope to tell in language sufficiently distinct and vivie to convey their full force. It was evident the loathsome creature had at length settled itself to sleep; and I felt thankful that attracted by my breath, it had not approached the upper part of my throat. It became quite still, and its weighty pressure—its first clammy chillness becoming gradually (so it seemed to me) of a burning heat-and the odious, indescribable ador which exhaled from its body and pervaded the whole air, so overwhelmed me that it was only by a severe struggle I preserved myself from shricking.

As it was, a cold sweat burst from every pore. I could hear the beating of my heart, and I felt to my incre .s d dismay, that the palsy of terror had begin begitted my limbs. It will awake thought I and then all is over! At that juncture, somethingit might have been a wall lizard, or a large beetle-fell from the ceiling upon my left arm, which lay stretched at my side. The snake, uncoiling its head, raised uself with a low hiss, and then, for the first time, I saw it, saw the hood, the terrible crest glittering in the moonshine. It was a Cohm di-Capello! Shading my eyes to exclude the dreadful spectnese, I lay almost fainting until again all was quiet. Had its fiery Solar Lamps, Chandillers, Candelabras, Lustres, Girandeles, Hall Lamps, Side Lamps, and in fact, cycs encountered mine, all would have been asleep, and presently I heard the Lascar moving about undoing the fasterings of could ascribe to nothing short of desperation, though its effects were providential. [uttered in a load but sepulchural tone .-"Kulassi! Lascar!" "Sahii: " was the instantaneous response, and my heart beat quicker at the success of my attempt.

Hay still again, for the reptile, evidently roused, made a movement, and is head, as THIS new, spacious, and delightfully situated I suppose, fell under my naked arm. latter suggestion was at once abandoned, because of the assurance I felt that it would prove fatal; impeded by the heavy coils of the creature, weak and nervous from excitement, I could not escape its fangs.

Again, therefore, I spoke with the hollow but distinct accents which arise from the throat when the speaker is afraid to move a muscle—"Kulassi chiragh !"--Lascar a lanthern! "Latah own, sahib," I am bringing it, sir. There was then a sound of clanking metal, light, advancing, flashed across the roof of the veranda, and at the soise of coming steps, lo! one after one its terrible cods unwinding, the grisly monster glided away from my body; and the last sounds which struck my sense of hearing were "Ya illahi, samp!"-Oh God! a snake!-of the Lascar, for I fainted away for the first time in my life.

[Correspondence of the News.] New York, Sept. 22, 1817. Mr. Entron:

This is one of the finest days 1 ever en joyed, without a single exception, so far as I can recollect. I may have enjoyed many as fine days as this, but none finer, for it seems to me such a thing could not be. Man's capacity is not capable of appreciating weather more delightful than

The funeral obsequies in memory of Daniel O'Connell has caused quite a turn out to-day among the trish inhabitants of our city. The procession was formed in the Second Avenue and extended down to Houston street, the distance of two squares. The luneral car presented un elegant appearance, as the procession moved down Broadway a few moments ago, on their way to Castle Garden, to listen to an Oration from Ex Governor Seward. The procession was to have moved from their starting point at 9 o'clock this morning, but they did not get under way till nearly 12 .-The funeral car is 16 feet long by 7 wide and Shigh, and was drawn by twelve beautiful horses, trimmed in a very tasty manner. The coffin was covered with green velvet, trimmed with gold lace, and the black pall was trimmed with white satin and silver lace. The exercises at Casile Garden will not be concluded till a late hour this afternoon.

The trial of Madame Restell has been put off to the second Monday in October .-She was brought up for trial yesterday, ! but her attorney said that important witnesses were absent from the city.

ALL FOR LOVE .- The Boston Journal says that considerable excitement was created at the depot of the Providence railroad on Wednesday morning, just as the 7 o'clock train was about starting, by the appearance of an elderly gentlemad, in a state of great ugitation, gazing with cager eyes upon every person seated in the cars. The excitement was not in the least abated by the entrance into one of the cars, of another gentleman somewhat advanced in years, who insisted that a cherry checked lass should leave her seat and go with him. This was strongly objected to by the lady, and a certain well dressed young mun who assumed to he her protector, and also by the passengers, who seeing the state matters were in; took part with the young couple, and, told them to "maintain their position." At this moment the cars were set in motion, and the first named gentleman was left standing upon the platform ;--- the other was carried were from Lyn. and on Tuesday evening the swain called at the house of his betroth- Plumbe." ed, but was refused admittance by the father;-during the night they managed to elope, and arrived in Boston in good season absence was discovered by the father, who, accompanied by the uncle of the girl, immedepot just in time for the uncle to take passage with them for Providence, where is it likely, he will take prompt measures to prevent the runaways from consummating their intentions of committing matrimony, and take the girl back to her parents. Their bean suffering for several years with a strange infirmity.. It is a noise in the throat diately started in pursuit, and arrived at the ing of two metals together or castanets used by boys in the street. The mise is without intermission, save perhaps for a few minutes occasionally. As yet, the cause of the noise has not been asceltained, or any means found to abute the disorder, which so tar has been on a gradual increase. It is totally distinct from the motion of the lungs, while breathing, and altogether is one of those cases which are beyond the ken of human wisdom.

Discuss of the Langs and Throat cared.
White Plains, April 20, 1817.

White Plains, April 20, 1011.
This is to certify that I have been afflicted for five years with a cough, pain in the chest, night sweats, difficulty in treathing, etc., and I also expectorated a large quantity of frothy matter and blood, from which I was reduced to a perfect skeleton, my throat was very much ulcerated. I had large countie profile to my throat twice a had Inner caustic applied to my throat twice a week, but received no benefit; I have used one hundred different kinds of Patent Medicines, recommended by my friends. But all to no purpose. A friend of mine, Mr. Willett, whose lungs had been infected for two years past, was cured by Dr. Vondersmith's Medicine. He insisted upon my trying Dr. V., and I did so. After I had used his medicine 15 days, I expectorated large quantities or vellow letid matter, my chest expanded, and my difficulty in breathing subsided. I persovered with his medicine, and the result has been, I am particely cured of all my sickness. I recommund every consumptive to try Dr. V.'s medicine, I am confident it will cure you. Your sincere friend, EDWARD C. THOMPSON,

This medicine makes no prefensious to miraculous powers the raising of the dead, or to immense and astounding sales daily and hourly, after the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense prinraises an its chains upon plain common ease principles, as a simple and to nature in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful trial as a test of its curative properties.— During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, wholly upon its own merits, by commendation from individual to individual, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months—save occasionally in a journal of which the present proprietor is editor. The increasing demand, however, has measurably compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country. A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package is almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, where medicine is needed. The undersigned has used it in his own family for more than filtern years—nas knowledge of its approved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixtuen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertious in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trad; for the proof, after all must lie in the use of it. Try it,

Middletown, June, 25th, 1843. Dr. Roardman

Sir-In answer to your inquiry respecting my case. I will merely say, that I have been sick since I strained my breast and loins in May, 1836, from that time continued to grow worse, when in the fall of '39, I abandoned business, and have not done any thing since. I suppose from all I could learn about my case—frequently raising blood, coughing very hard and expectorating profusely, deriving no benefit from my physicians, and all medicines recommended to me, that my case was hopeless. Last winter my brother told me he had heard a good account of Dr. Banning's Lace in such cases, and was anxious that I should try it; accordingly I procured one from you, and since I began to wear it, my breathing, which was very began to wear it, my breatting, which was very short and laborious, has become easy and natural; the pain and fluttering or palpitation of the heart has subsided; cough and expectoration greatly lessened, my limbs which were exceedingly painreseried, my mans which were exceedingly pain-ful have become useful, so that I can walk com-fortably. I am able to shave myself with comfort, which for many years I have not been able to do. The piles, which have troubled me for nine years, are nearly gradiented. [From the N. O. Sentinel Oct., 1844.]

One of our subscribers, Mr. H. Leonard, informs us that he has been cured of old, seely Sait Rheum, of eighteen years strucking, on his head, fingers and hands, by a cake of an article much fingers and hands, by a rake of an article much advertised lately—we speak of Jones Helian Chemical Soap. He also inferes us that he has tred its effects on his female slave Rose, much marked with sun spots, and he found in two weeks her skin much clearer and whiter.

James Eitham, a pointer in Jersey City, was cond of carbuncles and planples, which he was afflicted with for many years by part of a cake of Jones' Halian Chemical Soap.

Persons in purchasing this must always ask for Jones' Italian Chemical Soac; and perhaps, es

OR, EMANUEL,

Dear Sir:--You may perhaps think my statement almost incredible. My reason for fearing so is the fact of your never recommending your Jelly for the cure of confirmed consumption, but only in its primary or first stages. I have every reason to believe that I was in its last stage; my reason to believe that I was in its last stage; my physicient told me so; any friends told me so; as well did my symptoms, for they were truly alarming; and I feltfully convinced, that unless relief was obtained, I must soon be consigned to the oarrow confines of the silent grave. But by the timely use of your remedy, I still live, and again enjoy my former good health. I had, indeed, dear sir, all the alarming symptoms you speak of as forming consumption in its worst stage; but by the use of your Jelly, I again say, I am cured. the use of your Jelly, I again say, I am cured. Yours, dear sir, with great sincerity,

ISAAC J. BEED And now, reader, having given you a plain statement, let me conjure you to pause, ere it is too late; try this Helsamie Lung Jelly—try it. I have put its price to you as low as 1 can afford; if you use it, and succeed in curing yourself, I shall have the gratification of having rescued another from consumption; and I hope, in return, that you will not withhold from me your name, and a statement. not withhold from me your name, and a statement
